1. Guess who "Kato Kung Lee II" is? Ever wondered why he suddenly appears and disappears in Mexico? Why he works for the UWA religiously even though "I" works for EMLL? Why he came on the scene right after "el Celestial" stopped appearing on UWA cards? Why whenever Kendo appears in Japan then Kato Kung Lee II disappears for the same length of time on UWA cards? Well, Benjamin Mora wondered the same questions; and he has accused in a past issue of LLM (in an article I missed earlier) that II is Kendo...
2. Apparently Cynthia Moreno and Volador are either married or "an item" per LLM.
3. el Egipcio became the 41st Mexican National Heavyweight Champion when he beat el Rayo de Jalisco junior 4/13/91 in the 57 years they have had that belt (it was the first belt that salvador lutherroth instituted in late 1934, about 16 months after Mexico City first began running lucha libre cards.)
4. Dave, it was Weekly Gong who ran the story about Asai possibly jumping promotions, not Weekly Pro. They also specifically mentioned negro Casas's name in the very next sentence about maybe jumping. Maybe Gong knows that EMLL will likely let Asai and Casas work some for SWS which Gong loves. It was on page 75 of the 6/27/91 issue and is teased on the cover as well. Of course, I don't know if you want to print this, because I'll bet Konnan probably has his finger on Paco Alonso's pulse regarding this matter pretty well. So what do you do? If it's been printed elsewhere, I suppose you could go with it, but you are friends of theirs, and if it might adversely affect their options, do you really want to print it? Even under a "rumor" phase? Do you risk having an adverse effect on someone's careers with what you print? It's like revealing contract negotiations strategies at a very sensitive point, I guess, but isn't one side trying to "steal" them from the other?
5. LLM also reports that Perro Aguayo is one of 18 children his mother and father had, but due to poverty-stricken upbringing, only 2 lived (to adulthood). That's pretty horrible.
6. DAVE, THE NEXT PAGE AND THE REST OF THIS FAX IS MY COMMENTS ON TONIGHT'S GALAVISION SHOW, SO DON'T READ THE NEXT PAGE UNTIL YOU ARE READY.

Lucha Libre EMLL taped 6/14/91 at la Arena Mexico

1. "las Saetas del Ring," Ciclon Ramirez, Aguila Solitaria, and Pantera II, who are the trios champions of the State of Mexico, defeated "los Destructores(The new name they want to be known by)," Tony Arce and Vulcano, who are the current National Parejas Champions, and their parther Jerry Estrada two falls to one when captain Pantera II pinned captain Vulcano in the third fall. As you know, I like all six of these guys a lot and think las Saetas are a good lightweight team, and this was good, but not great. The dives were OK but they've each done better. 3/4.
2. "la Tercera Caída:" 1. Konnan wins CMLL Tournament: boy this must have really bombed if they didn't even show the FINALS on TV (not even highlights): then again, the newspaper said they really screwed up the finishing "rana" in the third fall, so maybe they just decided it would be worse to air it and let fans see it. 2. Herodes is still in the hospital as of 6/15/91 (eight days after his injury) with a busted head (that's what they called it.) 3. Pirata Morgan and Bestia Salvaje do well in Japan. At least they didn't acknowledge that Morgan who has turned face in Mexico is working as a rudo in japan...
3. Fuerza Guerrera, Egipcio, and Angel Blanco junior defeated Mogur, Dandy, and Mano Negra two falls to one when Fuerza Guerrera made Dandy submit to his side boston crab back breaker in the third fall. The crowd was into it because all the heat was on Dandy. Blanco tried as hard as I've ever seen him, showing more jumping ability than I thought he'd had. Nothing special, but okay. 1/2.
4. Cartometro del Ring:10:Kato Kung Lee;9:Lizmark;8:Dandy;7:Rayo de Jalisco junior;6:Mascara Ano Dos Mil;5:el Volador;4:Cien Caras;3:Konnan el Barbaro;2:Atlantis;1:Octagon
5. Atlantis, Masacra Sagrada, and Kato Kung Lee I defeated Nitron, Satanico, and Casanova el Vampiro Candiense two falls to zero when Nitron was disqualified for pounding on Atlantis for too long after Atlantis had submitted in the second fall. This call was made by ref el Gran Davis which teased him as still being a straight ref to set up the next match. After the match, Kato and Satanico signed to meet next week in a hair match in the main event. Which is strange because most of the heat I thought tonight was on Atlantis and Nitron, trying to teach Nitron to work how they want him too so they can bring him back.
6. "los Hermanos Dinamita:" Cien Caras, Universo Dos Mil, and Mascara Ano Dos Mil, defeated Konnan el Barbaro, el Rayo de Jalisco junior, and Sangre Chicana two falls to one when Gran Davis turned back to a heel ref and wouldn't count Rayo on top of Mascara but counted quick (for Davis) when Mascara had Rayo in a small package. Davis even took off his white glove to show a black one underneath. These guys all worked their butts off tonight, easily the hardest I've seen all six work in months. I think Paco Alonso must have seen the non-sellout last week and told everybody on the card to turn it up a notch because this was the highest workrate on a show in a long time. Plus they downplayed Americans and had mostly just Mexicans in there. This means Perro Aguayo was a no-show. They had advertised his in that very Friday morning's OVACIONES with a note saying that his plane back from japan was due in at 6:00 pm Friday night. The way they ripped the masks I bet we have a Dinamita vs. Rayo/Lizmark match real soon.
